

Eva Longoria Wore the Hottest Black Gown to Brooklyn Beckham's Wedding

And she wasn't the only star guest dressed in head-to-toe Victoria Beckham.

Eva Longoria may dress for many parts on television and film, but in her daily life, the actress never betrays her classy, upscale style. This past weekend, the Desperate Housewives star attended Brooklyn Beckham and Nicola Peltz's lavish wedding in a black, cut-out gown from Victoria Beckham's latest collection.

The floor-length dress, which is not yet in stores, has a halter top and deep bust cut-out (with only the thinnest, sleekest straps holding it together). The material is casual jersey, but its sculptural cuts and elongating silhouette showcase everything Victoria, as a designer, is praised for: minimalism and timeless elegance.

Eva shared photos of her look on Instagram, writing, in one caption, "Celebrating love ❤️ congrats @brooklynbeckham and @nicolaannepeltz," and in another, "Obsessed with my dress from last night ❤️❤️❤️ @victoriabeckham."

Family and close friends—including Serena and Venus Williams, Marc Anthony, Jordana Brewster, Gordon Ramsay, and Victoria's Spice Girls bandmate Mel C—attended the multi-day event to celebrate Brooklyn and Nicola's love. The VIP guests enjoyed bottles of Champagne Bollinger—the longtime favorite of James Bond—which just debuted its prestige cuvée, La Grande Année 2014, per the brand.
